FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK: "YOUTH OF TODAY"

The millennial generation is different from any previous generation. The world has changed so significantly for today's young people that there are few "normal" patterns. Technology, computers, cell phones, the media and globalization of the economy have created a brand new world and the millennial generation will be the first to grow up and be totally immersed in the new world. For the most part, the millennial generation is made up of believers, not belongers. Young people are deeply spiritual, though not necessarily religious. They understand spirituality in terms of mystery. Beauty, compassion, inclusiveness and justice. Many live as disciples. Catholicism is most effective in responding to young people. Their dreams and hungers, when it provides a context and a language for naming and celebrating their experience of God. The faith must speak to them when it serves as a means for the Jesus experience and provides a sacramental community – a spiritual home.

PARENTING TIP OF THE MONTH

As summer approaches life tends to become a little more relaxed. Longer days mean bedtimes become less specific, warmer days mean our food and drink consumption changes, and hopefully, we take full advantage of these lovely days by spending more time with our children. This summer be specific and plan what you would like to accomplish with your children; more reading time together, more time hiking, more family game nights, more time spent preparing and cooking as a family etc. Time spent together creates confident, healthy children and when we include daily prayer with our family, life is golden! (Family Ministry Office 1-905-528-7988).
